OTHER REASONS OR FURTHER EXPLANATION:

The Court's findings and reasons for ordering detention, including its consideration of the factors listed in 42 U.S.C. § 3142(g), were stated on the record at the January 3, 2022 hearing and are fully incorporated by this reference. At that time, the Court found by a preponderance of the evidence that there is no condition or combination of conditions which will reasonably ensure Defendant's appearance. This evidence was discussed on the record in support of the Court's reasoning, and includes, but is not limited to evidence that: (1) Defendant's previous adjustment to supervision was considered poor; (2) Defendant has a history of criminal activity while under supervision; (3) Defendant has a history of failure to appear as required; and (4) there is a recommendation from the pretrial service department that there are no conditions or combination of conditions that could reasonably ensure the safety of the community or reasonably ensure the appearance of Defendant if released.

Part IV - Directions Regarding Detention

The defendant is remanded to the custody of the Attorney General or to the Attorney General's designated representative for confinement in a corrections facility separate, to the extent practicable, from persons awaiting or serving sentences or being held in custody pending appeal. The defendant must be afforded a reasonable opportunity for private consultation with defense counsel. On order of a court of the United States or on request of an attorney for the Government, the person in charge of the corrections facility must deliver the defendant to a United States Marshal for the purpose of an appearance in connection with a court proceeding.
